WORK EXPERIENCE

Editorial Intern — The Nation's Health, American Public Health Assoc.

FEBRUARY - MAY 2022

- Wrote two to three stories each week on new research studies about the pandemic, healthcare disparities, climate change and the public health workforce.

Assistant News Editor & Beat Reporter — The Michigan Daily, U-M

JANUARY 2019 - FEBRUARY 2022

- Wrote two stories each week for the research beat and covered breaking news that surfaced during my weekly on-call shift.
- Covered research and health news from the University of Michigan, one of the country's largest healthcare systems.
- Worked on three impactful investigations and gained FOIA skills. Published one of the investigations.
 - Uncovered and corroborated three incidents of alleged abuse in research labs at the University of Michigan, the highest-ranked public research university in the country. None of the interviewed student researchers used the University's anonymous reporting system to disclose their alleged abuse.
 - Found that flaws in the anonymous reporting system deterred students from reporting alleged abuse.
 - My investigation led to an improved culture and a new anonymous reporting system in an academic department.
